HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OUT OF ATTENDING A SOCIAL

You're not alone if you're uncomfortable walking into a roomful of strangers and attempting to promote your business. But after attending one or two of our socials you'll soon be walking into a room full of friends and business acquaintances. Networking at our after-hours socials is a valuable tool to grow your business, to get the message out about the service or product you are marketing, and it also provides an opportunity to do hands-on marketing research. Below are some simple tips to make the most out of attending our socials on the 2nd Thursday evening of every month.

Prior to the Social:

Check the Mark West Chamber web site or the latest issue of The Lark and mark the date and location of the upcoming social on your calendar. Come prepared by bringing lots of business cards, a pen and a small notebook.

PRESIDENTIAL VIEWS

Chicken Little cried out "the sky is falling; the sky is falling!" only to cause an unnecessary panic. And so goes the media & economists as prophets of Doom.

But doom is not for those who are willing to succeed. They are not willing to succumb to the Doom Sayers! By opening up new areas and markets, they can and will succeed. Through increased advertising, cost cutting products, novel marketing, personal contacts and a successful outlook these successes will prosper during this period. If you are in sales, make more contacts. If you are in retail sales, you need to exercise greater courtesy, knowledge and esprit in your contact with customers. Make it to those club meetings, or join groups of interest; exposure, exposure, exposure!

For our Chamber members and guests we sponsor monthly Business After Hours Socials - the next is on March 12th hosted by C. Gray Landscaping - a great chance to gain exposure for your business. Each month your Chamber sponsors such a mixer for regular exposure of member businesses. Pencil in Friday, July 17th for our annual dinner meeting and installation of new officers and board members. The Mark West Area Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Center will again host the largest and best attended Trade Show (The 20th Annual Wine Country Harvest Faire and Business Showcase) in the area, to be held on Thursday, October 15th, 4pm - 8pm at the Wells Fargo Center for the Arts. By participating in such events you gain needed exposure for your business. This works very well if you plan the participation and work the contacts.

If you have additional ideas that you would like to share, please let me know by contacting me at 707 235-9774. Thank you!

Sincerely, Jim Bajgrowicz, President

OUR AFTER HOURS SOCIALS CONTINUE TO GROW!

February's after hours business social was hosted by our good friends at Cellularworld, located at 2280 Mendocino Avenue. Their gracious staff provided lots of deli sandwiches and delicious Sushi along with plenty of wine and other beverages. Head Ambassador Tony Geraldi from Sonoma County Airport Express served as Master of Ceremonies for the evening and introduced Cellularworld managers Will Ruffin and Graham O'Keefe to the close to 100 guests and members in attendance. Will and Graham acknowledged the dedicated owners and employees of Cellularworld and explained about the products that Cellularworld offers. Graham explained about the growing popularity of Smartphones such as BlackBerry's and iPhones, and also what is evolving in the way of cell phones and their ever changing usage by owners. Both Will and Graham described how the quality of customer service at Cellularworld truly distinguishes them from their competition.

New member plaques and warm chamber welcomes were presented to Elaine Holtz and Kenneth Norton from NortonHoltz Business Solutions, Mark Thornton of Classic Masonry & Design, Liz Corell from Pre-Paid Legal Services, Johanna Larson from 24 Hour Shirt and Sign Printing, Shawna De Grange from Cloverleaf Ranch, Gudy Bateman from Supreme Sanitary Supply, Carol Goshorn from Events Unlimited, Jacki Malin from Chocolate2Live, and Wayne Dzedzic, Esq. from the office of Attorney Wayne M. Dzedzic. With the constant number of new businesses joining our chamber, it is quite evident that in these challenging economic times it is more important than ever to be a chamber member.

Carlos Gray from C. Gray Landscaping, who is the host for next month's social on Thursday, March 12th, gave a preview of what he is planning and also invited everyone to attend. Chamber Ambassador Kathleen Palmer from Sonoma Connection reminded everyone that it is not too early to reserve a booth for the Chamber's trade show scheduled for Thursday, October 15.

Guests at the social included Deborah Planet and John Kabateck from The National Federation of Independent Business. Deborah and John explained that the NFIB's mission is to promote and protect the rights of its members and it is the leading small business association representing small and independent businesses.

Our 50/50 raffle of $115.00 was won by ambassador Don Wilson who kindly shared his winnings with his wife Barbara. Congratulations Don (and Barbara)! Our Pot of Gold was drawn and awarded to Sharon Gorelczenko representing Chancellor Place of Windsor. Because Sharon was present at the social she was awarded the current pot of $50.00. Sharon is more proof that it really does pay to attend our socials. Congratulations Sharon! Next month's Pot of Gold will be replenished with $40.00 and also beginning next month $20.00 will be added whenever the pot is drawn and the business is not represented.

Two very nice Bluetooth devices and various bottles of wine were donated by Cellularworld for our business card drawing. Also donating prizes were Pat Morelli and Joyce Partington from our chamber office, Sonoma County Airport Express and Healthy Are We.

At the Social:

Arrive early in order to make the most of the allotted time of the social. Enter the room with a smile on your face as you'll be perceived as approachable, enthusiastic, and friendly (and you'll feel a whole lot better, too!). Make sure you mingle and make lots of eye contact. Do not isolate yourself with only your friends or colleagues you might already know. Move around. Consider spending no more than 5-6 minutes talking with any one person as this will allow you to meet as many people as possible.

Promise yourself you won't leave until you've given out all the business cards you possibly can. Ask for other people's cards. Once you've been given a card, take 5 to 8 seconds to visually scan the card prior to placing it into your pocket, as this is considered proper business etiquette.

Keep in mind the reasons you're attending: To meet certain people, to find prospective customers, to find a resource which might benefit your business, to meet a new friend, and to nurture existing relationships.

Ask one of our ambassadors to introduce you to people who you might want to meet, or to get you started in a group where you know no one. Reach out to people standing by themselves and introduce people to each other. When you meet a person, shake hands, and repeat their name. This not only helps you remember it, but it shows that you're making an effort to hear the name properly. Wear your nametag on your right shoulder so that people can easily see it when they shake your hand. Create a description of yourself and your business that can be said in 30 seconds or less.

Listen more than you talk. Remember that there is nothing more flattering than someone who listens carefully and shows sincere interest in other people. This also helps you to identify who might be a potential client for your own products and services. Take notes to help you remember what people have said.

After The Social:

Once you have someone's business card, make sure you follow up with them within 24 hours of the event if you determine them to be a valuable contact. If there's an obvious win-win connection with someone you've met at the social, call them up to explore the connection further. After that, start looking forward to attending our next social.

20TH ANNUAL WINE COUNTRY HARVEST FAIRE AND BUSINESS SHOWCASE

People, get ready - our 20th Annual Wine Country Harvest Faire and Business Showcase will be happening on Thursday, October 15, 2009 at the Wells Fargo Center.

Often times when business owners hear the word Business Showcase there could be some resistance or hesitation. I believe it is important to plan to participate.

Why is this event important? Here are several reasons to consider:

1. They are a great place to personally introduce yourself and your products and services.
2. Face to face contact is extremely important – remember one of the golden rules of selling, people tend to purchase products from individuals and companies they know.
3. It is a great place to network and make friends.
4. An opportunity to get business cards and leads.
5. These types of events are a place to meet and talk with potential clients.
6. Suppliers get to meet fellow suppliers and your customers.
7. An opportunity to market new ideas.
8. The participants who attend or exhibit are interested in learning and sharing about the businesses that are there.
9. It's FUN and remember; all expenses are considered a business expense & are tax deductible.
10. It's great advertising and less expensive than a talking advertisement.

With today's economic challenges it is important to let people know that you exist and are there to say hello and answer any questions they might have. A business showcase is a social event and it brings people from the community together. Those who are participating are letting the attendees know that you are part of the community and are looking for business and referrals.

Lots to think about and to help you prepare for the showcase. Our next article will be about what to put in Your Toolbox for Success. Who could ask for anything more? contributed by Elaine B. Holtznortonholtz.com
